

Shorewood Police Department

Press Release

Date: Friday, February 26, 2010

Communication is a key component of the partnership between residents and their police department in any community policing program. In our ongoing efforts to keep our residents informed, the Shorewood Police Department is pleased to announce the availability of the NIXLE communications service. NIXLE is a secure communications platform provided at no cost to residents and municipalities through which residents can receive informational messages by text message, email, or web. Residents are able to customize their personal accounts to determine the method of dissemination as well as the types of messages they wish to receive. Those interested are encouraged to go to www.nixle.com to read more about this customizable service and sign up for their free account today.
